The University of Iowa's College of Dentistry is conducting a search for a full-time Director, Behavioral Sciences in the Department of Preventive and Community Dentistry. This is a clinical or tenure-track faculty position. Major responsibilities include: develop and direct behavioral science educational thread in dental curriculum. Equip students with skills to be effective, compassionate providers and communicators, as well as prepare them to work with diverse patient populations. Contribute to diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives. Build behavioral science research capacity in the College through current and active scholarship in the field. Develop University health science campus and community connections that promote collaborative educational/clinical experience. Write and/or participate on grants and secure funding when appropriate. Cultivate an environment of inclusion and respect for students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds with the department/college. The position is available April 1, 2020; screening begins immediately. Applicants must have: M.S. or Doctoral (Advanced Degree) in Sociology, Human Psychology, Anthropology, Health Profession Education, Communication, Social Work, or relevant social science field of study; experience in health profession education; demonstrated commitment to teaching, research, and service; and demonstrated experience working effectively in a diverse environment.

Desirable qualifications include: minimum three years' experience teaching patient/provider communications skills; experience/participation with inter-professional education and practice; grantsmanship; evidence of interdisciplinary work, research and collaboration; and involvement with student diversity, equity, inclusion initiatives. Academic rank, track and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Learn more and/or apply at Jobs@UIowa at https://jobs.uiowa.edu/faculty/view/73887, reference Req #73887. The University of Iowa is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment free from discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color, national origin, age, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, religion, associational preference, status as a qualified individual with a disability, or status as a protected veteran.