

American Association for Dental Research Houston Section

2020 Membership

The Houston Section of the American Association for Dental Research (AADR) is open to all individuals who are interested in and supportive of research. You need not be a member of the national organization to join the Houston Section. Please support dental research by your renewed membership or by becoming a new member of the Houston Section of the AADR.

We encourage all faculty, administrators, staff, and students to join the Houston Section to help support our student/faculty research program, research awards, and research seminars. We also support nationally competitive AADR student research fellowships through an annual donation.

Membership is on a calendar year basis, starting January 1st.

Dues are payable by cash or check payable to AADR-Houston Section. Send to:
